QUIZ 2: A REVIEW OF TOPICS 9-13

Name: Silfiana Dwi Nabiilah Class: 1A TNK Student ID: 221344028

A. Each of the sentences in this exercise is a possible beginning for a newspaper article. Working with another student, decide which pattern you think the author would use in the article. Then write the letters of that pattern beside the sentence.
(Listing, Sequence, Comparison/Contrast, Cause-Effect)

1. The success of Milan's soccer team is due in large part to good management and good luck. (Cause-Effect)
2. Making a pizza at home can be quick and simple fi you follow these steps. (Sequence)
3. The industrial Italy of today is a far different place from the rural Italy of just a generation ago. (Comparison/Contrast)
4. The Mafia would never be so powerful in Italy if the Italian government hadn't helped it in some way. (Cause-Effect)
5. Italian society has undergone a number of profound changes in recent years.(Listing)
6. The only way to save the artistic treasures of Italy is to drastically reduce the number of cars in Italian city centers. (Cause-Effect)
7. The career of Francesco Guccini, one of Italy's most loved pop/folk singers, began in a cafe in Bologna. (Sequence)
8. Changes in life style have brought changes in the eating habits of many Italians. (Cause-Effect)
9. The standard of living of most Italians today is not very different from that of their European neighbors. (Comparison/Contrast)
10. Applying for citizenship in Italy is a complicated bureaucratic process that may take over a year. (Sequence)

10 pts

B. Read the passage then answer the following questions.

1. What are the paragraph patterns of each paragraph? (Listing, sequence, comparison, or cause-effect)
2. After deciding the paragraph pattern, what are signal words used in each paragraph?
3. What is the topic sentence in each paragraph? Underline it in the passage.
4. Summarize each paragraph.
5. After making a summary of each paragraph, summarize the passage.

Dangers to Small Children

Everybody knows that cigarette smoking is harmful to one's health. However, many parents who are smokers may not be aware that it is also bad for their children. Cigarette smoke can have harmful effects not just on the smoker, but also on people who live with the smoker. Children, naturally, are more easily affected than adults. In fact, studies have shown that children of smokers get sick more often than children of non-smokers. Many people smoke in order to feel more relaxed in social situations. One experiment, for example, studied a very common problem among small children: earaches. The statistics clearly proved that children of smokers got earaches more often than children of non-smokers. Their earaches were also more difficult to cure and tended to last longer.

1. Paragraph pattern: Cause-Effect
2. Signal words: Effect, Affected, In fact, for example, but also, also
3. Topic sentence: Many parents who are smokers may not be aware that it is also bad for their children.
4. Summary of the paragraph:
    - Cigarette smoking is not only harmful for adults/parents, but also for children.
    - Cigarette smoking is also bad for children.

In some poorer countries, over twenty percent of the children die in their first year of life. One reason for this is the lack of medical care and medicines. Many children die from diseases that could easily be prevented with the right medicines or the right care. Another cause of death among children is the food. It often is not clean or fresh and can make children very sick. Milk is a very important source of vitamins and minerals. Getting enough food is another problem. When children are weak from lack of food, they die more easily from diseases. And finally, dirty water also kills many children every year. Because of water shortages, people often are forced to drink water from dirty rivers or lakes. This water may carry serious diseases, or it may contain harmful chemicals from pollution.

1. Paragraph pattern: Cause-Effect
2. Signal words: One reason, Another cause, Another problem, and finally, also
3. Topic sentence: In some poorer countries, over twenty percent of the children die in their first year of life.
4. Summary of the paragraph:
    - In some poorer countries, over twenty percent of the children die in their first year of life for some reasons.
    - There are some causes of death experienced by over twenty percent children in some poorer countries, including the lack of medical care and medicines, the low-quality of food, the shortage of food, and dirty water.

Most homes are full of dangers for small children. Many of these dangers are obvious. Stairs, for example, can be dangerous, and so can the sharp corners of a table. Another well-known danger is fire and parents usually are careful about matches and candles. But other dangers may be less obvious to a parent. Many children die from poisoning in their homes. In fact, all kinds of things in the house could be poison to a child. Medicine, for example, may not be harmful for an adult, but may make a child seriously ill. The same is true of alcohol and cigarettes. Finally, soaps and chemicals used for cleaning are often extremely poisonous. Before the days of detergents, people used to make soap from animal fat. All these things should be kept far out of the reach of young children.

1. Paragraph pattern: Listing
2. Signal words: Many of these, for example, and so can, another well-known danger, many children, the same is, finally.
3. Topic sentence: Most homes are full of dangers for small children.
4. Summary of the paragraph:
    - Most homes are full of dangers for small children.

- Most homes are full of dangers for small children both obvious and less obvious dangers.
- There are both obvious and less obvious dangers at most homes fo small children.

Now, summarize the passage. 5

There are three main dangers to small children. First, cigarette smoking is not only harmful for parents, but also for children. In addition, in some poorer countries, over twenty percent of the children die in their first year of life for some reasons, including the lack of medical care and medicines, the low-quality of food, the shortage of food, and dirty water. Moreover, most homes are full of dangers for small children both obvious and less obvious dangers.

C. Grammar Points

There is one grammar mistake in each sentence. Spot it, then correct it. (removal, addition, changed)

1. I would like to be an IT consultant because IT IS my dream job. Changed it is my dream job.

2. I want to have a job as an soccer player as it is my passion. Changed a soccer

3. I hope I can be an actor because this job has always been my dream since I am teenager. Changed Since I was teenager

4. There are many way how to succeed in engineering life. Addition ways how

5. There is one main reason why do I choose this profession. Removal Why I choose

6. Listen to music can make me feel relaxed. Addition Listening

7. Keeping the class clean can make learning atmosphere comfortable. Changed Learn

8. My classmates are really like Physics since it helps them think more critically. Removal My Classmates really