Assignment 12

Name : Tsaniya Faridah Maulida

NIM : 211331031

Class : 1A-TTE

A. Decide whether these statements are true or false
   1. False (In recent week)
   2. False (5 Mei 2022)
   3. False (Scotland)
   4. True
   5. False (Spain)
   6. False (Denmark, Ireland, Netherland, Italy, Norway, France, Romania, and Belgium).
   7. False (169)

B. Answer the following questions based on the text above
   1. Hepatitis is an inflammation of the liver that is caused by variety of infectious viruses and noninfectious agents leading to a range of health problems, some of which can be fatal.
   2. ECDC is European Centre for Disease Prevention and Control, an EU agency aimed at strengthening Europe's defences against infectious diseases.
   3. Children aged from one month to 16 years old have had the mystery disease.
   4. The patient that had this disease didn't have any of the five known hepatitis vireses, A, B, C, D and E and they had symptopms that included jaundice, diarrhoea, vomiting and abdominal pain.
   5. Trackable, detectable, identifieable
   6. Leading hypothesis it was a combination of a normal adenovirus along with another factor that was making it more severe
   7. Increase, extension, addition
   8. Buti said theh because adenovirus in an infection disease, COVID measures work well against it particularly children regularly cleaning hands, get the vaccine for hepatitis and COVID, don't use an infected person's personal items and the most important is practice good personal hygiene such as hand-washing with soap and water.